

BLUE EXHIBITORS.

The Burst Chemical Bank Had Many Fair Dollars.

Attendants at the Exposition Apply in Vain for Deposits.

Capitalists Guarantee That Exhibitors' Funds are Secure.

Yesterday's Attendance at the Fair Was the Largest Since the Opening Day—Progress of the Work of Installation.

By Telegraph to the Times.

CHICAGO, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Among the World's Fair exhibitors the failure of the Chemical Bank was the principal topic of discussion. Most of the foreigners had deposited money with the bank, and their letters of credit were honored by that institution. As soon as it became generally known that the bank had closed a crowd gathered around the docks and waited patiently for the appearance of Cashier Brayton. That gentleman did not put in an appearance, having been summoned down town to consult with officials of the bank. Strenuous efforts were made by depositors to get in, but the clerks kept the doors locked. Considerable excitement prevailed for a short time, but things quieted down when it was stated that the bank expected to pay in full. Some of the depositors, however, refused to be comforted, as a great many of them are from out of town and have no means of replenishing their exchequer at short notice. At a meeting of the National Commission this afternoon the matter was brought up by Commissioner Gammon of Oklahoma, who offered a resolution reciting the facts of the failure and asking for the appointment of a committee of six to investigate the matter and report as to the advisability of permitting the bank to resume business on the grounds. Several dissenting voices were heard to the effect that the commission had no right to investigate the affairs of the bank, but an equal number were positive that it had. After a lengthy debate the resolution was adopted and the committee appointed.

President Higginbotham of the local World's Fair directors and President Palmer of the national commission declare that the management has done nothing to make the World's Fair responsible for the debts of the Chemical National Bank.

Bank Examiner Sturges says it is not a bad failure, but from what he knows so far, thinks it is a complete one, and that a resumption of business is not at all likely. He gave assurance that the depositors would receive their money in full, but that within four or five days could be paid at least one-third of their claims. The heavy runs of Saturday and Monday were the cause of the suspension. Had they had two days more they would have lifted over their difficulty. It is the general opinion among financial men that the trouble came through bad management and poor investments.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE.

Fair Weather Brings Thousands of People to the Fair City.

CHICAGO, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Since the day the President opened the fair there has been no day when the attendance was larger and the day more propitious. The actual figures could not be learned this evening, but they undoubtedly far surpass any previous day. From early this morning until late this afternoon thousands crowded through the gates.

JACK TAKES ENTERTAINMENT.

Reception to Foreign Sailors on the Philadelphia and Newark.

NEW YORK, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The sailors on the United States flagship Philadelphia and Newark gave receptions to the jack tars on all the foreign war vessels this afternoon. The American sailors prepared in any event luncheon, after which they showed the foreigners over the ship.

While all this was going on the Admiral's train, bringing the naval officers from their visit to the World's Fair was speeding east, and arrived this evening ahead of time.

NATIONAL COMMISSION.

Phoebe Cousins Settled—Progress of the

WASHINGTON, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The first business which came before the National Commission this afternoon was the petition of Phoebe Cousins of Missouri, setting forth her claims in regard to membership. The Judiciary Commissioner reported that under the act creating the commission, Miss Cousins cannot be regarded in any sense as a member. This settles her status unless she takes other action.

Reports from the committees on the work of the different buildings were then received.

The Fisheries Building's work was reported far advanced.

The report of the Committee on Live Stock was not encouraging. The grounds and buildings of this department are not ready, though the chief of the department thinks that there is ample time, and that he will have all in readiness by the time they are needed. According to the report, not a single exhibitor is yet in attendance, nor are there any exhibits. Date of entry for horses and cattle is therefore changed from June 1 to July 15, and for sheep from July 1 to August 1. The mines and mining exhibit is probably the most advanced on the grounds. The committee finds the installation almost complete.

The Committee on Forestry reports a deplorable state of affairs in that department. Chairman St. Clair stated that no one competent to have charge of the department has been appointed, that the building and grounds were in an out-of-the-way place, that a roadway had not even been made to them, and that there was a deplorable lack of proper management in the forestry division. Mr. St. Clair laid the matter before the commission in such a vigorous manner that a motion was immediately made fixing a time for its consideration.

The report on the electrical department showed that the work there is very backward. This was caused in part by the delay in exhibiting, but have been devoting all of their energies to installing the great dynamos in the power-houses. The committee found that the electric building is magnificent in proportions, well adapted, and that all of the space has been assigned.

Departure of the Warships. New York, May 9.—The squadron of warships, which has been in American waters for several weeks, will begin to break up tomorrow, when the British fleet will depart.

JEFFERSON DAVIS'S REMAINS.

Arrangements for the Trip from New Orleans to Richmond.

RICHMOND, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The arrangements for the reinforcement of the remains of Jefferson Davis in Hollywood Cemetery on May 31 have been completed. On the 28th, Gov. Foster, in a brief address, will commit the remains to the escort, and the special train will leave New Orleans that night. The funeral train will reach Montgomery, Ala., on Monday morning, and the body will be conveyed to the Capitol, placed on the front porch, where Mr. Davis took the oath as President of the Confederacy. The next stop will be at Atlanta, the same afternoon, where there will be a procession, and possibly an address at the Capitol building. There will be a brief stop at Greenville, N. C., at Raleigh elaborate preparations are being made for a mammoth demonstration, with addresses and other exercises at the Capitol. The train will reach here at 11 a. m., May 30, and the remains will have a military escort to the Capitol building and lie in state until the next afternoon, when the interment will take place. Mrs. Davis and her two daughters will be present.

HELPED HIS BROTHER.

A County Treasurer's Cashier Helps Himself to Cash.

CHICAGO, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Cashier Kern said today that his cashier, Felix Schweithalt, took $42,000 in sums of $5000 to $10,000 to take along Michael Schweithalt, a banker who failed some time ago. Michael was a brother to Felix, and both thought that the banker's embarrassment would be only temporary, so Felix gave Michael the cash and put his checks in the drawer as "cash." Kern suspecting something was wrong, examined the cash drawer and discovered the missing money. Felix returned over $30,000 in real estate to two of his bondsmen, who promptly handed $21,000 in cash to Mr. Kern. The matter became public this evening through the announcement of the fact that two other of Schweithalt's bondsmen, M. T. Devine and Bernard Roeding, had refused to pay their portion, and that Treasurer Kern had instructed his attorney to bring suit against them. A criminal prosecution of Felix Schweithalt was refrained from by the higher officers, through motives of friendship and pity for the young man, who, he thinks, did not really mean to do wrong.

A TERRIBLE TUMBLE.

A Man and Woman, Out Driving, Fall Through a Bridge.

AKRON (O.), May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Last night Gus Schuler and Martha Kline started out for a drive to Cuyahoga Falls. A street railway car is constructing tracks over the high bridge that crosses the Cuyahoga River just above the glens, and had torn a portion of the bridge away. Danger signals were not out, and Schuler attempted to drive over the bridge. This morning his horse was discovered standing on a ledge about thirty feet below the bridge. The buggy was almost a total wreck, and was lodged in another place. Thus far no trace has been discovered of the man and his wife. The bridge is 100 feet above the water, and the couple must have met instant death.

RAILROAD CONDUCTORS.

A Large Number of Delegates Attend the Biennial Session.

TOLEDO, O., May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] About fifteen hundred delegates are attending the biennial session of the Order of Railroad Conductors, including their wives, who have an organization known as the Ladies' Auxiliary. Gov. McKinley, who came from Toledo expressly to make the conductors welcome to the state of Ohio, received an ovation. His twenty-minute speech was largely devoted to review of the growth of the railway system of the United States. Grand Chief Conductor Clark replied in fitting words. Other addresses followed. After adjournment Gov. McKinley and his grand officers were entertained at luncheon by Mayor Major. This afternoon the real work of the convention began in earnest.

WARNER'S LIABILITIES.

He Has Outstanding Debts to the Amount of Several Hundred Thousand Dollars.

NEW YORK, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] H. H. Warner's attorney says that Warner's liabilities will amount to several hundred thousand dollars. Business men estimate them at $300,000. His assets consist of his interest in the H. H. Warner Company of London and the H. H. Warner Company of Rochester, the Industrial and Mining Guarantee Company of New York and other concerns. Warner's homestead and other pieces of real estate are under a mortgage of $1,000,000 to the Bank of Monroe County.

National Cordage.

New York, May 9.—The receiver of the Cordage Company, the directors and others directly interested in its affairs had a number of conferences today, and, as a result, it is understood, Drexel, Morgan & Co. will take steps toward a reorganization of the company's affairs. Unless reorganization is determined upon the indications are that cordage will be wiped out on the stock exchange. The governors of that institution are not at all pleased with the recent developments.

In Memory of Gonzales.

City of Mexico, May 9.—The National Congress adjourned out of respect to the memory of ex-President Gonzales. He will be buried with military honors and several thousand troops and all the higher officers of the Mexican army will participate. He left an estate of $7,000,000.

Prohibition in North Dakota.

Bismarck (N. D.), May 9.—The Supreme Court today decided that the prohibition law is constitutional and valid.

KENTUCKY DERBY.

Horses Will Run in the Mud at the Great Event.

The Probable List of Starters With the Names of the Riders.

Review of the Field of Horses the Night Before the Race.

San Francisco Races—National Trotting Association—Genom Won in the National League—Squire's Third Estate.

By Telegraph to the Times.

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] That classic turf event, the Kentucky Derby, will not be run over a fast track tomorrow. Three days of rain have put the track at Churchill Downs in bad condition; and the sun came out today, and the wind began to blow, and if no more rain falls, the track will be fair. In all probability there will be six starters, and they will be ridden as follows: Lookout by Kunze, Buck McCann by Thorpe, Linger by Martin, Boundless by George Metz, Plutus by A. Clayton, and Mirage by Isaac Murphy. Which of them is the best is the question that is asked. It is pretty hard to answer, not because there are not mud larks in the bunch, but because all of them are more or less fond of a heavy track.

If there were no mud horses in the race, Cushing and Orth would probably prefer heavy going, as Lookout and Boundless have demonstrated that it does not stop them, but as the others are equally good or better in the mud, they would prefer to see a dry track. Buck McCann comes of mud stock, and if the distance is not too far for him, and he does not give it up in the stretch, he ought to have no trouble in heading the others.

One thing is certain, however, the Scoggans have their heart set on winning the race. The reputation of their great sire, Buchanan, is at stake. He has the name of getting only sprinters, and the Scoggans could afford to give double the value of the stake to disprove it.

Plutus likes mud and he has no objection to rain. The stable is a trifle mischievous about him, and it is hard to obtain any information except as to his general condition. No one outside of his trainer, owner and rubbers has seen him work better than 2:42 1/2, but the impression prevails that he has covered the distance in at least six seconds better.

Linger was his stake at Lexington in the mud. The distance was a mile and a sixteenth, and the weight ninety-four pounds. In the Derby he will have to take up 122 pounds, and go three-sixteenths farther. This will probably stop him.

Mirage is not much thought of, but there is no telling what Murphy's luck will bring about.

San Francisco Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Five-eighths of a mile: North won, Glenn Mount second, Carlos third; time 1:02 1/2.

Three-fourths of a mile: Francisca won, Connaught second, Angelo third; time 1:17.

One mile: Motto won, Joe Cotton second, Broad Church third; time 1:42 1/2.

Five-sixteenths of a mile: Tillie S. won, Pollard second, Button third; time 0:36 1/2.

Six furlongs: Solitude won, Inkerman second, Chamer third; time 1:14 1/2.

Six furlongs: Greenback won, Hugenot second, Redlight third; time 1:16.

Squire Abington's Estate.

LONDON, May 9.—The will of George Alexander Baird, known to the sporting world as Squire Abington, has been admitted to probate. The gross personalty was sworn to be £4,280,285 and the net value £4,158,565. The testator leaves all of his real and personal property in trust for his mother.

National Trotting Association.

CHICAGO, May 9.—The board of review of the National Trotting Association met today, but did nothing but hear appeals in minor cases. No decisions were rendered.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Results of Baseball Games on Eastern Diamonds.

St. Louis, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The visitors lost the game today through Clark's errors. St. Louis, 4; Chicago, 1.

Cincinnati, May 9.—Inability to bat Terry and sharp fielding by the visitors were the features. Cincinnati, 4; Pittsburg, 6.

Washington, May 9.—There were no features outside of heavy batting. Washington, 15; Boston, 8.

Baltimore, May 9.—Batting won the fourth consecutive game today. Baltimore, 6; Philadelphia, 8.

New York, May 9.—The Brooklyn gave the home team a disgusting defeat today. New York, 10; Brooklyn, 11.

Louisville, May 9.—The Louisville-Cleveland game was postponed on account of wet grounds.

CHINESE IMMIGRANTS.

A Canadian Official Denies Certain Reports.

OTTAWA (Ont.), May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] Parmelee, controller of Chinese immigration, says that the reports from Tacoma that far more Chinese are brought into Canada than the Canadian Pacific Railway Company reports is baseless. The official report of the number of immigrants brought in by the Empress of Japan on her last trip, April 11, showed that she had 1003. Their destination was as follows: Victoria, 102; Vancouver, 241; Eastern Canada, 3; Cuba, 216; and the United States, 257.

International Machinists.

THE EAST SIDE.

The Defendant on the Stand in His Own Behalf.

He Details His Movements on the Night of the Murder.

An Emphatic Denial That He Killed His Partner.

Mrs. Dr. Ellis as an Expert on Blood Tests—A Chemical Demonstration in Open Court—Dr. M. M. Kannon's Testimony.

By this evening the verdict is expected to be forthcoming which will acquit or convict G. H. Miles of the mysterious and horrible murder of George Miller. For six long days the trial has dragged on, and the mystery is yet as deep as it ever was. Instead of the facts before us being satisfactory, only explained, a number of very singular circumstances have been brought to light in addition, and, altogether, upon these latter being mixed with the expert testimony given, a condition of affairs is suggested, more or less confusing to the mind of the average jurymen or reasoner. The entire evidence, without dispute, has leaned to the side of the extreme of circumstantial in connecting the defendant with the charge. The tedium of the routine of the trial was somewhat enlivened yesterday by a number of amusing incidents. As the day wore on, however, the Court in his earnest endeavor to hurry matters to a conclusion in the already long-drawn-out case, found it necessary to frequently admonish the defense to make haste in the examination of their witnesses.

MORNING SESSION. Z. P. King, who was on the stand Monday evening when court adjourned, continued with his testimony at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The letter before referred to was written by him to Miles some months ago to the witness was brought in and identified, but it was not allowed to be admitted as evidence. The substance of the epistle was to the effect that if the defendant (Miller) would let him have a ticket or money with which to pay his fare and he would come back here at any time. Mr. Shinn made an argument upon the question of the letter being filed in evidence, but the Court held that the questions under consideration involved only very plain points of law and that there was no need of argument. He, therefore, overruled the motion to introduce and sustained the objection. Dr. L. L. Ellis was then put on the stand for the purpose of contradicting statements made by Dr. West Hughes. It will be remembered that Dr. Hughes made the assertion that in obtaining the full test for blood it was necessary to use ether in addition to quialcum. That, while the blue color would be brought out on other substances by the use of quialcum and peroxide of hydrogen, the reaction in the blood test could only be secured by the use of ether as an additional chemical. The doctor produced her chemicals to make the tests in illustration. The Court lamented the fact that so much time should be taken up in this way, but concluded to allow the experiments to be made. Dr. Hughes occupied a seat beside the counsel for the people and the spectators crowded about to get a glimpse of the work. A fluid said to be blood was precipitated in drops on a clean white blotting pad and the quialcum and peroxide of hydrogen applied. In addition to these ether was then used with the result of a blue tinge appearing on the spot. It was also shown that the blue color in the blood test could be secured by the use of the simple quialcum and the hydrogen peroxide.

THE UNDERTAKERS.

Meeting of the State Association of Funeral Directors.

The Annual Report of President McAvoy of San Francisco—Appointment of Committees—Address by Dr. S. H. Boynton.

The State Association of Funeral Directors met in Dr. Hall, Denney Block, yesterday afternoon, with a fair attendance. Every member of the State is represented, about fifty delegates being present, and more are looked for today when the election of officers takes place.

The convention was called to order by President Hugh B. McAvoy, of San Francisco, who proceeded to read his annual report. Mr. McAvoy briefly outlined the objects of the association, which, he said, was to encourage skill and care in performing the last offices of the dead, and to elevate the profession by an interchange of views and ideas. Among other things, the association had urged the passage of a bill looking to the protection of the public against contagious diseases, and requiring competency and skill on the part of undertakers, which bill had been amended by the Hospital Committee and was now before the Legislature. Further in this connection, Mr. McAvoy said:

It has been stated by some few persons that this body is a matter in good standing, while in convention assembled at Omaha in October, 1890, passed a resolution absolutely prohibiting any member of the association from formulating or issuing any price lists whatever. It costs $1200 to hire Herr Krupp's big cannon just once. Chicago marksmen will be content to do most of their practice in some other way.

The police department at Brattleboro, Vt., reports no fires, no drunkenness, and no disturbances of any sort during the year 1892. It sounds like a report from a city of the dead.

The hydraulic mining interests of California and the interests of the valley fruit-growers as well will be safe in the hands of the D. B. R. Commission appointed by President Cleveland, which consists of Lieut.-Col. Mendell, Col. W. H. H. Benyard and Maj. W. H. Heuer.

Commissioner Lochen's attention is called to the fact that John C. Black, who was Mr. Cleveland's first Commissioner of Pensions, is still drawing $75 a month for "total disability," though he is able to earn $5000 a year as a member of Congress and has a tidy private fortune besides. Pension reform should begin its black list with Black.

LAST fall a lawyer of Oklahoma City was elected county attorney. He struggled along without an assistant until this spring, when his partner was elected city attorney. Straightway each member of the firm appointed the other his assistant, and now the two modest disciples of Blackstone are holding four offices and drawing $4000 per annum in fees and salaries. It is hardly necessary to add that the gentlemen hail from Kansas, and they are probably escaped Populists.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee has reversed the decision of an inferior court of that State, which lately declared that Miss Florence W. Davidson was not debarred from holding the office of notary public, to which she had been elected. An English judge rendered a similar decision recently in the Lady Sandhurst case. In neither case were the qualifications of the women denied. They were shut out from public office solely and expressly on the ground that they were women.

HEADMAN MAXWELL celebrated his return from a short vacation one day last week by lifting the locks of 141 fourth-class postmasters, and when he got through he felt as lively as if he had not struck a lick. It does brace a man up wonderfully to take a day or two off now and then and particularly along in the spring. The impatient Democracy should not begrudge Headman Maxwell his little outing. He works none faster afterward to more than make up for lost time.

MAYOR HARRISON of Chicago set out to do himself proud and compliment the Duke of Veragua by addressing the grandee at his reception in French. According to a Chicago paper the Mayor's French, like that of a well known character in Canterbury Tales, was not "Frenche de Paris," but, even such as it was, he could not speak it, but limped and faltered and interjected English spasmodically, making his guests wonder what sort of frizzled cap-and-bells Chicago has for groomaster.

THE San Francisco Chronicle observes very correctly:
The fruit-growers of California have been too busy heretofore in producing to pay due attention to the handling of their products, and, meanwhile, the commission men have fattened on their large and easy margins. Efforts have been made, it is true, to organize for mutual betterment, but they have not been sustained, and the results have been inadequate.

The successful alliance of the Sacramento fruit-growers and the more recent organization of the Santa Clara Fruit Exchange, together with the general movement of the orange-growers of Southern California, show that the producers are rising to the situation all along the line.

Dr. BROWN, formerly of Philadelphia, now United States Consul at Amoy, China, sends in a report to the Secretary of State in which he deals principally with the numerous varieties of disgusting insects that swarm in the city of Amoy. There are grubs that bore into furniture and render it unreliable. These grubs afterward develop into fat, winged ants that swarm by the bushel at meal time. There are millions of cockroaches that poke under the toe and finger nails of persons asleep. There are large and ferocious spiders, red ants of poisonous bite, and insects that bore into the human skin, producing itch. Dr. Bedloe is an adroit man, but he can't represent his position in such an undesirable light that he will be let alone to enjoy it. No aggregation of worms, ants, cockroaches, mosquitoes, fleas, chiggers and creeping reptiles would frighten off a real hungry office-seeking Democrat. A Kentucky Colonel would face this array of live crawling things and a case of jim-jams besides and never flinch. There are probably a thousand Democrats in America whose hankering for the post at Amoy will only be whetted by Dr. Bedloe's account of its disagreeable features.

ORANGE-GROWERS.

Another Meeting at the Chamber of Commerce.
The Riverside Plan of Organization Recommended.

A Committee Appointed to Form Local Organizations.
A Full and Free Discussion of the Present Situation—The Necessity for a New Departure Strongly Urged.

The question of forming an organization of orange-growers was further discussed at a meeting of growers held yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.
The meeting was called to order by W. A. Spalding, who had presided over the previous meeting. Mr. Spalding was, on motion, appointed chairman of this meeting, and W. E. Collins of Ontario, secretary.

Mr. Collins gave a brief statement of what had been done since the previous meeting in Los Angeles, when a committee of five had been appointed to outline a plan of action. That committee had Pomeroy and passed resolutions which were published in the Times. The plan has been generally accepted in Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties. The object now was to take steps to form an organization which would include all Southern California.

P. J. Dreher, who was secretary of the committee of five, read the plan which had been adopted. It is the same as that recommended by Mr. Chamblin at the previous meeting in Los Angeles. The following is the plan of organization:
The committee appointed by the orange-growers assembled in convention at the Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles, on the 4th day of April, 1893, for the purpose of organizing a plan for general organization of the orange-growers of Southern California, the object and purpose thereof being to provide for the marketing of all the fruit of the orange-growers of Southern California under uniform methods and in a manner to secure to each grower a certain marketing of his fruit, and the full average price to be obtained for the entire season. We hereby submit the following plan for adoption by growers generally, and we invite the active cooperation of every grower as necessary to give success to this undertaking. The committee recommended that districts be formed as follows:

- (1) Riverside county.
- (2) All of San Bernardino county east of Cucamonga.
- (3) Cucamonga, Ontario, Pomona, Claremont and San Dimas.
- (4) All of San Diego county north of the Southern Pacific Railroad and east of the Los Angeles River.
- (5) The remainder of Los Angeles county.
- (6) Orange county.
- (7) Ventura and (8) Santa Barbara counties.

Organize as many associations as may be necessary in each district to embrace as nearly as possible the sections having identical interests and grades of fruit. Each of said associations shall be a purely local body, without individual or company name attached, under which the different grades of oranges in said association shall be marketed separately. Each association do its own packing.

Each of said associations shall choose of their own members a committee to constitute an executive committee, which shall also choose one who shall be known as manager. He shall receive such compensation as the association may determine, and shall be the only salaried officer. He shall have general oversight of the affairs of the association, subject to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee and manager shall constitute a board of control, who shall determine all questions of management, unless otherwise ordered by two-thirds the membership of the association.

Each association shall have the privilege of its own brand, and the brand of oranges, but such price must be made as will move its product to market. The said associations shall then adopt such uniform methods of conducting the business, fixing and maintaining uniformity of price, promoting orders and regulating the picking to be proceeded among the members so as to give each as nearly as possible an equal share in the marketing of the fruit to be marketed and to give them for, which shall include everything clipped from the tree. The culls of each variety shall be weighed and counted separately. The percentage of culls of each variety to be determined at the close of the season. The same percentage shall be deducted from the total delivery made by each member, for corresponding varieties of fruit, and final settlement made with each member, by the board for each variety as the total receipts may show.

The books and correspondence of each association shall be kept in the name of the association, and in connection with the brand shall be the property of the association. Each member of said associations shall have access to any of said books or correspondence at any and all times. For cause detrimental to the whole, or in any case of damage to any crop the members of any of said associations may, by a two-thirds vote, exclude such orchards in whole or in part from participating in said association until the committee given thereto for the current season. And the said association shall handle the same for the separate and exclusive benefit of the members, and hereby agreeing that any fruit so damaged or set apart shall be marketed under the control or direction of said association.

The proceeds of sales of fruit to be distributed pro rata from time to time as the management of each association may determine.
The selling shall be done under a system of brokerage, which shall not exceed 5 per cent of the total receipts, and shall be paid to the broker, who shall be chosen by the association to apply only to f.o.b. sales. Oranges shall be marketed under the associations so as to keep the fruit moving from time to time.
To this end a central office shall be established in each district, where all telegrams and correspondence shall be delivered, and where the said managers and members shall meet daily and transact the necessary business, it being understood that each shall have access to all telegrams and correspondence.

An executive committee for Southern California shall be composed of one member from each of the districts, and shall be charged with the general management and the amount of fruit to be moved from time to time and price.
T. H. B. Chamblin of Riverside, chairman of the committee, addressed the meeting on the subject of this plan, which, he said, had received the test of three or four years' experience in Riverside. The speaker said that hitherto, efforts in this direction had begun at the top of the structure. Efforts had been made to arrange with packers, whose interests are diverse from those of the growers. Now they were to begin at the bottom, and to build up a business for other men.

The grower, at the same time, takes all the risk. Such a state of affairs is not a parallel in the commercial history of the United States. These company and individual brands must go. Each association will have its own brand. It is proposed to set the growers up in business for themselves.
Having established a brand, the next thing is to pack the fruit. It is provided that the associations shall buy and sell on a cash basis, and get the benefit of any profit there may be.

Then, as to selling: The established system all over the country is the brokerage system, and the charge for selling 5 cents a box. It is proposed to put the business on such a basis.
It is proposed that each man shall receive the full average price of the market, from the beginning to the close. That is all there is in fruit and should satisfy the growers. Under this plan every grower has a perfect right to examine all books and correspondence and see what is going on.

By getting from each grower, at the beginning of the season, an estimate of the amount of fruit of each variety, the business can be carried on in an intelligent manner, and an idea formed as to how fast the crop should be moved.
A grower called attention to the fact that some people might have a much larger number of culls of each variety, and the prorating would be an injustice.

Mr. Chamblin said that much of the trouble in the orange market had grown out of claims of injustice in culling, made against the packers. He believed that, taking the country as a whole, other, the average of culls would be evened up.
A grower said that orchards protected by windbreaks would show less culls than others. Mr. Chamblin replied that Dr. Hyers' windy sections there were very few culls.

It was intimated by a grower that this plan might work all right where land was even, as at Pomona and Riverside. Other districts showed great inequalities in the land running in streets. Mr. Chamblin said that in such cases two associations might be formed in the district. It was not proposed to pool bright fruit with dull fruit.
Continuing, the speaker said that at the time early in the season, by securing 200 carloads of objectionable fruit, worth at the most 50 cents a box, an increase of 25 cents a box might have been obtained on 800,000 boxes, equivalent to an increase of $75,000.

Another grower expressed fear that fine oranges might have to be propped with poor ones in the same district, and thought that it might be a temptation to growers to save fertilizers and make money at the expense of their neighbors.
Mr. Chamblin said that the association provided for letting out any grower who did not take care of his fruit. Reverting to the cull question he said that by pooling the culls from 50 to 50 per cent, might be extracted that could be shipped to the market, and the growers to bury the rest. The speaker reiterated that poor fruit would not be allowed to pool with fine fruit. The individual grower is constantly seeking to have his fruit put upon the market in the hopes of getting something for it. A great many carloads have been shipped this season without any hope of getting anything beyond packing and freight. Such fruit demoralizes the market. Conditions change from orchard to orchard, and year to year. Unless existing evils are corrected, within twelve months there will be a depression and stagnation in Southern California that will arouse the people.

Mr. Chamblin's motion that the report of the committee be received and filed, and the chairman called for motions toward the adoption of a permanent plan.
W. M. McFadden said that there was much missionary work to be done in Los Angeles and California generally, and would be required to do it. Money would be required. The speaker thought every grower would be willing to put up, say, 25 cents a carload. He moved that a committee of five be appointed to prepare, after lunch, on some permanent plan.

The chairman said they already had a committee, and did not see the necessity of multiplying committees. He ruled that until this committee was dissolved the appointment of another committee was out of order.
Abbot Kinney moved that the plan recommended by Mr. Chamblin be adopted.

The chairman thought the only possible trouble might be in the question of pooling the fruit. He suggested that this matter be left to be settled by each association.
Dr. Hyers of the Committee of Five, told of a carload shipped East, the average price of which was 25 cents a box, but within 25 cents as much for his culls as for his "fancies."

Mr. Hall of Duarte spoke on the injustice of placing poor fruit on a similar plane as first-class oranges. He outlined a plan which had been suggested by growers at this meeting had arisen there. The man who tries to raise oranges on ground not suited to citrus fruit should not be encouraged. Duarte could not enter into such a plan as that outlined, unless it was amended. One article in the by-laws of the Duarte association provides that the directors shall grade each variety of fruit according to its quality, and fix a minimum price for each variety. The grower may then sell, under the association brand, not lower than this fixed price.

Mr. Blanchard of Ventura drew attention to the fact that some districts were not earlier than others. For instance, had only just begun to ship, and could not therefore profit with Riverside.
It was explained that each association would only pro-rate in its own section. Mr. Chamblin said that this was an iron-clad set of regulations. Each district association might modify it to suit their own views. For his part, he believed the pooling process the most satisfactory. It was better to divide, say, 5 per cent of culls with the growers than to have the total returns cut in two. The conditions are such that unless some uniformity of plan is adopted they would go on until they were ruined.

Mr. Chamblin explained that two-thirds of an association would pass upon the fruit, and if any was very objectionable, from frost or other causes, it would be handled on the individual account of the grower.
On motion, the committee adjourned until the afternoon session.

On reassembling the secretary stated that the committee suggested the adoption of the plan outlined, and the appointment of a committee, consisting of one from each district, as a board of organizers, with Mr. Chamblin as chairman.
The chairman remarked that local modifications of the plan might be made.

Mr. Baldridge said that some growers were indifferent because they had not come to their meetings. More should attend. Some growers have not yet sent in their fruit. Others say they will ship their own fruit. They have relatives or acquaintances back East who are "all right." An Eastern preacher had received a consignment of three carloads of oranges. He would not have been more at a loss if three carloads of bumblebees had been sent to him. The growers must determine where they will be "at" if they stay out of this, and get their own territory in some district among the commission houses, and when they went into tal expenses. Or we can hire thirty men, keep them traveling for six months, and still have a big surplus. Then, when a buyer rejects a carload of fruit, he would, within a few hours, have an agent at his side to see why it was rejected. The growers must get rid of the idea as to localities, and that each grows the best fruit in America. Many of the objections made to the proposed plan would vanish, when it came to practice. It might be found, at first, that it would cost these organizations a little more to handle the fruit than later on, but they could well afford to pay, say, 10 cents a box to place such an organization on a solid basis. The next crop will probably be moved at a lower rate than the last one.

Mr. Baldridge asked how it would be if a grower is a "high price" man. Can he hold on to his fruit, refusing ruling prices?
Mr. Chamblin said the man would get no advantage, as Mr. Chamblin received the average price of the season. Any grower who stays out of the organization must do so for a selfish reason. Under this plan, the big grower could not sell more than the little fellow.

"The crop of California and Florida is increasing, and it will be absolutely necessary, immediately after the holidays, to fix a price that will start the fruit moving in competition with Florida, at whatever price we have to accept. Thus we gradually lighten our orchards, and can gradually raise our price as the season advances. What advantage will the man have who stays out? He will only get the price fixed on the market. Some growers ask how they were going to hold together. The common interest is the strongest incentive."

Dr. Jones of Tustin thought every man who has intelligence enough to raise an orange should see the advantage of joining such an organization. He moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Chamblin.

Mr. Chamblin spoke of the solid character of the Riverside organization. The four banks gave it their financial support at the start, promising to make advances to growers. The plan, he indorsed, of intelligent men throughout the Riverside Valley.
The motion of a vote of thanks to Mr. Chamblin was put and carried.

The chairman suggested that any expenses incurred by Mr. Chamblin in organizing should be considered a legitimate claim on the organization.
Mr. McFadden thought some steps should be taken at once to compensate the gentleman. It was a small matter for so large an industry.

On motion, it was resolved that the expenses of Mr. Chamblin, as chief organizer in Southern California, be a legal charge against the organization.
G. J. Griffith said he had learned that one of the leading shippers would leave next month for the East to arrange for next season's crop, and asked whether it would not be possible for the growers to send some one East to make arrangements so that they might not be left without an outlet.

The meeting then adjourned. After the adjournment the committee met, organized and adjourned until next Tuesday, when Mr. Chamblin will know whether he will be able to take charge of the organization work.

DISCUSSED BUGS.

Meeting of the Los Angeles Science Association.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Science Association last evening B. W. Griffith of Inglewood gave an interesting talk on scale insects. He presented drawings on a scale of about five hundred diameters by which he described the characteristics of the various species, and then by means of a half dozen microscopes the audience was enabled to inspect the real bugs at close range. Mr. Griffith gave a description of the male insect of the black scale which he recently discovered and mounted for microscopic investigation. This has not hitherto been found by any entomologist on the Pacific Coast, and is not described in any of our text books.

Chaplain John D. Barry addressed the society in advocacy of the Pacific Academy of Sciences, which he is engaged in organizing, and invited cooperation.
The next meeting of the association, on the evening of the second Tuesday in June, will be devoted to a loan exhibition of objects of scientific and archaeological interest. It will be somewhat of a social order as well. The society will then adjourn its regular sessions until October. During the summer there will probably be excursions to study natural history subjects.

WILD OVER THE ORANGES.

An Enthusiastic Letter from Superintendent Wiggins at Chicago.

A letter from Frank Wiggins to Charles Forrester under the date of May 8 says:
"The rest of the trees are here. Not yet unloaded but will be soon. You should have seen the interest excited by what he had on his mind, May 1. It seemed that no one could stay long enough around them to get all they wanted of the unusual perfume of the orange blossoms, and they constituted a very important part of the features in the Horticultural dome. These attendants could hardly satisfy the curiosity of the multitude or give information about the land which produced them fast enough. If this interest keeps up, and I see no reason why it should not, we ought to have a machine primed with facts and statistics, talking all the time, unless the committee can provide us with cast-iron throats. The orange tower created a sensation also. 'Are they real oranges?' was the question asked by the people. The latter question these people had in any section's ability to 'stack up' in seemingly endless quantities such a luxury. To satisfy these as to their being the real article it was only necessary to present them that 'this is the Southern California exhibit.' They would have believed there were diamonds in every one after that."

Only Disturbed the Peace.

P. B. Randolph, the young colored man arrested Monday night on the complaint of a young colored girl, who charged him with assault, was tried yesterday before Justice Austin. The facts did not bear out the assault charge, the girl herself failing to appear, and Randolph was convicted of disturbing the peace. He will be sentenced this afternoon.

Mr. Price has only been in the city a day, but says that should he ever change his residence he will locate in Los Angeles, as it is the most attractive city he has ever seen.

THE COURTS.

The Matter of the Hunt Estate at Last Settled.

An Interesting Opinion on Rights of Succession by Judge Clark.

The Grandson of the Deceased Can Take None of the Property.

Albert Morris Acquitted of the Charge of Burglary—The Jury Gives Its Verdict on Instructions of the Court—New Cases.

In the Probate Court yesterday Judge Clark rendered an opinion touching contested points in the will of S. B. Hunt, deceased. The controversy arose on a petition to distribute the estate of the deceased. On June 6, 1889, the will was executed, and by its terms devised and bequeathed all of the property to the deceased's wife. At the date of the execution of the will there were living three children of the testator, Anna M. Cochran, Samuel B. Hunt and John N. Hunt, neither of whom were mentioned or provided for in the will. Subsequent to the execution of the will and prior to the death of the testator, the son Samuel died, leaving surviving him a son, Randolph, who, as grandson of the deceased, was not mentioned or provided for in the will, and the question presented was as to whether or not this grandson was entitled to succeed to any portion of the estate.

The Civil Code, quotes the opinion, reads:

When any testator omits to provide in his will for any of his children, or for the issue of any deceased child, unless it appears that such omission was intentional, such child, or the issue of such child, must have the same share in the estate of the testator as if he had died intestate.

Counsel for the widow contends that his child Randolph is not the issue of a deceased child, "within the meaning of that section, because the father, Samuel B. Hunt, was alive at the time the will was executed. In my opinion in that case it is said that the object is not to protect any grandchildren except those who, as presumptive heirs at law, would be entitled, had no will been made, to inherit at the time the will is published and made. Then the mother of the testator, who died prior to the death of the testator, her father, was mentioned in the will and intentionally disinherited, but that fact does not affect the result of the decision. For the purpose of ascertaining the intention of a testator the will speaks as of the time of its execution and it cannot be presumed that the omission of a testator to name a person in his will was unintentional unless the person whose name was so omitted was at the time a presumptive heir. The boy Randolph Hunt was not, on June 6, 1889, the date of the publication of the will, a presumptive heir of the testator, and it cannot be presumed that the omission of a testator to name him in his will was an oversight. He had then no need to mention him in order to prevent him from inheriting as heir-at-law. His omission to name his three children, including the father of the contestant, must be presumed to have been an oversight, and had the father been living at the time of the testator's death, the latter would, as to all three of these children, have died intestate. In the boy, Randolph, entitled to have distributed to him that portion of the testator's estate that his father would have been entitled to had he survived. It may seem an unreasonable rule, but that would be to take the share that would have belonged to his father, the child, Samuel, had the latter survived; but the right of succession is but a statutory right, and there is no statute that provides that a child shall, in all cases, for purposes of succession, stand in the shoes of his parent.

That it was not the intention of the Legislature that children should, in all cases, represent and stand in the place of their parents for the purpose of succession is illustrated by paragraphs 1 and 2 of section 1380, Civil Code. Under the former, if a decedent should die intestate, leaving surviving him one son and two grandchildren by a deceased son, the surviving son would take one-half of the estate, and the two grandchildren the other half by right of representation. But if neither son survived, but there were three grandchildren, two by one deceased son and one by another, the grandchildren would not stand in the place of their parents, but the estate would be divided equally among them. Under the latter, if the decedent left surviving him a wife, a brother and the son of a deceased brother, the wife would take one-half, the brother one-fourth and the son of the deceased brother would stand in his father's place and take one-fourth by right of representation. But if the decedent left no brother surviving him, but only a widow and two sons of two deceased brothers, these sons would not represent their parents and would take nothing. The whole estate would go to the surviving wife. I am of the opinion that, as to the surviving contestant the deceased died intestate, and as the children Anna M. Cochran and John N. Hunt have conveyed all their interest in the estate to the surviving widow of deceased, she is entitled to the whole estate distributed to her. Decree accordingly.

ACQUITTED OF BURGLARY.
The case against Albert H. Morris came up in Department One yesterday, resulting in a verdict of acquittal for the defendant. Albert Morris is the son of a clergyman, who resides at Catalina, and was accused of entering the store of Mr. Elms at Avalon with intention of stealing something, in company with his two younger brothers. A passer-by on seeing the boys in the store while the owner was absent, and a complaint of burglary was therefore entered against the lads. Upon being examined before the local justice, the elder boy, Albert, was held and the others discharged. The boys yesterday told a very straight story, saying that in a spirit of fun merely they had hidden in the store, and that they did not molest anything. Judge McKinley was inclined to believe them, and instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, which was done.

ORANGE

FRUIT CULTURE!

A responsible land-owner having a large improved estate in the Placer-county foothill region, adjoining the Central Pacific Railroad, where orange and fruit culture is attended with success, only equalled in a very few sections of the State, and having a tract of about 50 acres, already largely cultivated and containing about 300 choice orange trees now in successful bearing, desires to meet with a gentleman of means, who desires to establish a pleasant country residence, and who would be willing to engage in fruit-growing under the most favorable conditions, and would go forward and engage in the cultivation of the particular tract. The tract has a nursery of over 12,000 young orange trees, budded to the choicest variety of oranges, of which about half would be suitable to plant out in orchard next winter. Peach, cherry and other varieties of fruit trees can be planted in the tract to large and speedy profit. The tract is supplied by an abundance of water, and is connected with the best built roads to be found in the State. The tract can be leased, purchased or bonded with an option of purchase, or otherwise favorably arranged for by a suitable party. In the vicinity is a most prosperous country club, with cricket and tennis clubs, and a football team. The surrounding society is of a cultivated and superior class.

30-acre and 50-acre adjoining tract, with abundant water, are also offered for sale at moderate prices, where residence and cultivation is intended. Such tracts will be sold upon a cash payment of 10 per cent, with deferred payments for a period of years at 6 per cent, interest.

MINING AND ENGINEERING SCHOOL.

While agitating the question of a mining and engineering school don't forget that the laboratory of Wade & Wade, No. 109 1/2, Commercial street, is the best in Southern California, being fitted up with the latest apparatus, crushing machinery, furnaces, etc., for assaying and wet analysis, and practical instructions to students. You don't have to go outside of Los Angeles to Germany, San Francisco, or anywhere else—to get a correct assay or analysis. Col. Mulvey notwithstanding, Wade & Wade make a specialty of the business, and don't run engineering, blacksmithing, or any other business with "assaying" as an incidental.

NEW HATS

Just now we are selling lots of HATS! Fedoras or Alpine shapes and Derby shapes, in browns, tans and blacks.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
LOS ANGELES, May 9, 1893.

An Associated Press dispatch to THE TIMES from Chicago says: "The Porter Bros. Company sold California cherries today for $1.55 per pound. The market for New York cherries to Monday's Examiner says:

"Outside of a moderate indispensable trade the business card of the week was unusually blank one. May day this year was attended with more removals of stock firms than commonly occur. A number of prominent failures caused a brief panic in all money circles, and two days of severe rainfall spoiled transportation for the latter half of the week.

"Canned fruits—Moderate prices continue to attract small lines of trade, but there is no wholesale inquiry. There are sellers of Crawford and Lemmon's cherries at $1.55 per pound; apricots at $1.30; peaches, $1.00. Young canned asparagus is well spoken of; it is at $2.75 per bushel. "Prunes—Quoted weaker in the absence of steady demands; only boxes move at 10 to 11½¢, the latter for fruit to sixties.

"Evaporated peaches—in a wholesale way, quoted at 90¢; "quinces" is about all there is of it, for no one seems inclined to make purchases of any moment with the hot weather approaching. Georgia growers say they will not evaporate to any extent this season, though their crop will be ample. They confess that they cannot compete with California in large size and quality, and certainly the closing situation of Coast goods does not encourage competition.

"Raisins—The pool is offering good parcels of 3-crown bags at 5½¢ to 5¾¢, evidently lightening holdings with a view to a future rise. Buyers, however, are cautious, and there is no marked activity.

"Oranges—Porter Bros. Company report a better orange market. California Washington navel at $2.25 per bushel; bloods, $2.50; seedlings and St. Michaels at $2.00. The middle of some boxes showed rot. Four cars of California went to Liverpool.

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The stock market was erratic in its movements throughout the day. There were sharp rallies at intervals, but the tendency of prices was, in the main, downward, owing to reports that the Government crop report tomorrow would be most favorable, and the collapse of the Chemical National Bank of Chicago, which led to rumors affecting the credit of other financial institutions of the city.

The decline at the start was equal to 3½ per cent in National Cordage, 2½ in Sugar, and 1½ in the remainder of the list. Before the expiration of the first half-hour Sugar suddenly rose from 8½¢ to 9½¢ and a sharp rally ensued in sympathy, but National Cordage rumors and reports, which subsequently denied, that an application had been made for a receiver for Whiskey, plunged the market once more into depression.

National Cordage preferred fell 2½¢, Rock Island, 2½¢; Omaha, 2½¢; Lackawanna, 2½¢; and Cotton Oil, 6½¢. Losses on the remainder of the list were 1½ to 2 per cent.

During the last fifteen minutes of business a rally of ½ to 1½ per cent occurred, and the market left off steadier.

Government bonds closed dull. New York Money—On call, closed offered at 1½ per cent. FRANK MERCHANTILE PAPER—½¢ to 8 per cent.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

STERLING EXCHANGE—Was firm today; bankers 60-day bills, 4.85¢ to 4.90¢; demand, 4.85¢ to 4.90¢.

A Big Coal Cargo at Port Los Angeles.

The Mammoth Wharf is to Be Dedicated Today.

The Pacific Coast Road and the Southern Pacific.

What Henry Villard is Going to Do—Prominent Traffic Officials Visiting Los Angeles—Local Notes.

The real dedication of the Southern Pacific Company's new mammoth wharf at Santa Monica—or, to use the new name for the location, Port Los Angeles—will occur today, when the San Mateo, the largest steamer in the Coast trade, will begin discharging a cargo of 5000 tons of coal into the great bunkers built far out into the sea. Though steamers have heretofore touched at the wharf to discharge small lots of merchandise freight, the San Mateo's great cargo will be the first of its kind. The citizens of Santa Monica, with bands and speakers, will today welcome the arrival of the boat, and celebrate in a fitting manner the important episode. On Saturday the members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade, at the invitation of the Southern Pacific Company, will visit the wharf and vessel, the party leaving Los Angeles at 1:45 p.m. On Sunday the steamer will be open for all visitors, and it is expected that a large number of people will be present. Work on the new wharf is progressing so rapidly that its completion is expected within the next ten days. Yesterday a tug arrived at the wharf with the great anchors which are to be sunk in the bay with buoys at right angles, for permanent moorings of vessels in the harbor.

VILLARD'S PLANS.

New York, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Herald says: "Henry Villard is figuring on a collateral trust loan of $15,000,000 to release the floating debt of the Northern Pacific, reserving a part of the issue for other expenditures that may be necessary during the next two years."

"This is substantially the same as the plan of the Stockholders' Committee, which was ignored because its success was contingent upon the resignation of a majority of the board. There is said to be available collateral to secure the loan, in case it is effected, amounting to nearly $30,000,000 of par value stock and bonds worth from 80 to 85 in the market. Villard is trying to get the stockholders to agree to his plan. His friends intimate that he still thinks of resigning, but that he wants to go out with flying colors."

THE PACIFIC COAST ROAD.

The Chronicle says: "A few days ago a dispatch was sent from Los Olivos saying that the Pacific Coast Railroad had passed into the hands of the Southern Pacific, and that the gap between Los Olivos and Elwood would soon be closed by a line passing through Santa Ynez. The Southern Pacific engineers said positively that no work on the coast road would be done this year. C. C. Johnson, manager of the Pacific Coast road in an interview in the San Luis Obispo paper, declares positively that the line has not passed into the possession of the Southern Pacific; that it is now, as it has been for several years, the property of the Oregon Improvement Company, and that a change in its ownership could only be effected by the purchase of the entire plant of the improvement company, a transaction involving millions of dollars."

THE COLORADO PASSENGER RATE WAR.

OMAHA, May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Union Pacific today took in the Colorado rate war by issuing an order to sell tickets from Union Pacific points to Colorado common points for $1.80 and for a round trip $2.60. The prevailing rates have been $2.50 and $3.50. Chicago, May 9.—The Denver and Rio Grande today announced a rate of $2 from Denver to Pueblo, a 100 per cent increase of $1 over the rate between these points during the past fortnight, and at the same time declares that it will not make any further reduction or take action of any sort until after May 20, the date on which the Atchison withdrawal from the Western Passenger Association. Trouble is feared after that date.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE INVESTIGATIONS.

OMAHA (Neb.), May 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Interstate Commerce Commission arrived this afternoon and began their inquiry regarding the alleged infractions of the interstate commerce law by the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and other lines. Three cases will be taken up here. A. J. Gustin, a resident of Kearney, brought suit against the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, alleging discrimination against Kearney from California points, and against the Union Pacific and Burlington and Missouri River, on the same charge from the Missouri River. The other case was brought by a Populist of California against the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, alleging discrimination in favor of Republicans and Democrats, and the refusal of the roads mentioned to give like rates to Populist delegates to the National Populist Convention held in Omaha in July of last year.

SCAF REAP.

President McFadden, of the Santa Ana Railroad, was in the city yesterday.

Isaac E. Beake, president, and G. G. Schofield, a director of the Nevada

Southern road, arrived from the North yesterday.

The Phillips-Rock Island excursion for the East left yesterday in five loaded cars. There were 100 passengers in the party.

J. W. Midgely, chairman of the Western Freight Association, arrived from the North yesterday in his private car and went to Coronado. He is accompanied by his family.

The Santa Fe will announce another "salt water day" at Redondo Sunday, the 28th. These Neptune carnivals will probably be kept up at intervals throughout the summer season.

The freight agents had another stormy meeting yesterday to try to come to an agreement. The narrow-gauge Redondo road is a thorn in the sides of its big rivals for seaport business.

E. P. Vining, former chairman of the Transcontinental Association, is visiting Los Angeles and yesterday in a private car. He is accompanied by his two daughters and by Mrs. W. E. Jones and daughter.

The Buena Vista street long cars of the Consolidated Electric Railway are being repainted. The new lettering indicates that the cars run into East Los Angeles, which they do not as yet. Superintendent Barrett says that as soon as the iron work can be received will begin on the new bridge, and when that is completed cars will run to the East side line.

The board of managers of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, with a few invited guests, paid a visit to the County Farm on Tuesday last week.

It was very gratifying as well as a surprise to the ladies to note the great progress made since their last visit about a year ago. The work is all done by the inmates, and all seem contented and happy. It is a place that has only to be seen to be appreciated. It is simply a beautiful home for the aged and infirm, who are obliged to be cared for by public charity.

Too much credit cannot be given to Dr. Burdick and his wife and to the Board of Supervisors for the good and substantial work done at this farm.

The situation at San Pedro. There is no improvement in the situation at San Pedro. There has been no further open outbreak, and as Peterson, the man who figured in the Halcyon affair at Redondo, has been held to answer before the Superior Court in a $2000 bail, it will have a good effect. The Detroit is unloading coal at the Terminal wharf under guard, and another vessel at the Southern Pacific wharf is also discharging cargo under guard. As long as the officers are retained it is not believed that the union sailors will make any open hostile demonstration. None of the men reported wounded in the Halcyon fight have as yet been located, nor does it appear that any special effort is being made to find them.

DRESSMAKING! Mrs. J. H. Wallace, late of Chicago, is now in charge of our dressmaking parlors. Her fitting is unsurpassed, perfect style and finish without equal. Satisfaction is assured. Your own materials made up. Mourning and dress suits. Alterations made on short notice. Prices reasonable. Popular Cloth and Suit Co., 217 South Spring street, adjoining Hollenbeck Hotel, between Second and Third.

The W. C. Furry Company. Sells the famous Glenwood cook stoves and ranges, acknowledged the world over to be the very best. They are most convenient, last longer and consume less fuel than any other stove known. Do not fail to see them.

Go to 159 to 165 North Spring street and inspect the renowned Weir stove, the best in the world. They will save you 40 per cent in fuel. All the latest improvements.

THE ONE CENT STORE. 340 South Spring st., bet. Third and Fourth.

NOW is a good time to take your carriage to the Tabor Carriage Works, 185 to 191 West Fifth street, and have it repaired and painted. They will do you first-class work and guarantee satisfaction. If you are going to the World's Fair or to the beach, leave your rig with them and have it put in order by their repair.
